Pertaining to our U.O.I 'Senses' (sense of sight), the students of K1-A, B, C along with their teachers visited the Eye Hospital- Tess. On reaching we all were ushered into the reception area, class wise. The teachers of each class explained to the children that, the reception is the area where calls were made and received. Patients were also registered over here. Batch wise we were taken into the doctor's cabin. The doctors who spoke to the children were Dr. Urvi and Dr Nikunj. One of the doctors then explained about the different parts of the eye through a model, later with the help of another staff member who acted as a patient, the doctor explained about the machine and how it was used. The doctor even told them how to take care of the eyes.

When the children were leaving the students were given an envelope which had a gift for each one and a letter for their parents stating when they should start the eye checkup for their child.

The Hindi Diwas Reflections

The Hindi Diwas is a celebration of the Hindi language. We talk about Hindi, its significance and its sweetness to the ear. In my school, we did a Hindi play and I had loads of fun. I sang a welcome song in Hindi, called "Swagatam". I also participated in the play 'Uphaar', which means a present/ a gift and played the role of Pintu. It was my birthday in the skit and my friend had to make fake gifts and give them to me which was very enjoyable and amusing Cahir

I would like to add on to what my friend Cahir just said. Both the plays were related to our Unit of Inquiry Earth and Eco systems. I also understood that Hindi Divas is celebrated as it got its national language on 14th September, 1949..... Aadi

I liked playing the role of Khushi and learnt about Hindi Divas a lot. I loved Pradushan, as I advised the audience to grow more trees and stop pollution and save animals.....Kshama

I wish I was 'Vandevi'.....Viti
